THE DUTIES ON MALWA OPUM.

BOMBAY MEMORIAL TO THE VICEROY OF INDIA.

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir FREDERICK TEMPLE HAMILTON-Temple BLACKWELL, EARL OF DEDDINGHAM, K.P., G.C.B., G.M.S.I., P.C., ETC., ETC., Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council.

The Humble Memorial of his undersigned Opponents of Bombs.

SHEWTS.—That your memorialists are deeply interested in the trade in Malwa Opium, being to a great extent dependent on it, and they venture, therefore, to call the attention of your Excellency in Council to the present precarious position of this valuable trade in the hope that Government will recognize the importance of doing what is necessary to place it on a more assured basis.

2.—For some time past the price of Malwa Opium in Bombay has ranged from Rs. 1,150 to Rs. 1,100 per chst, net after deducting therefrom the amount of Government duty, Rs. 650, and the expenses incurred in bringing the drug from the producing districts—which with the import duty levied by the Mysore State do not fall short of Rs. 1,400 per chst, resulting in a net profit to the dealers only Rs. 450 or 400 per chst, and your memorialists humbly submit that this is not an adequate price.

3.—The trade between the producing districts and Bombay, and that between Bombay and China are both being carried on under equally unfavourable circumstances, as the prices current here are now on the flat cost of the drug.

The Chinese opium in India are again lower than the Chinese sold in Bombay, and why is not this trade in mind in the hands of large capitalists its dimensions would inevitably have been much curtailed long ago.

4.—Hitherto your memorialists have been sustained by the hope of an improvement in the prices realized in China but from the over increasing production of indigenous drugs in that country, the imported Opium which is continually received from both official and private sources, it is impossible any longer to indulge in vain anticipations of support from that quarter.

5.—The trade has further suffered since last year on account of the Chinese Government having raised the leikin to an foreign Opium from Haikwan Taels 30.⁰⁰ to Rs. 80, or say about 100 per cent.

6.—A casket of Malwa Opium has now to pay to the Imperial Chinese Government as soon as it is landed on Chinese soil.

Customs duty..... H. Ta. 30

Lekin tax..... 80

Total H. Ta. 110, or currency Rs. 121⁰⁰ less 365, against the equivalent of Rs. 180 levied formerly, or 14½ per cent.

7.—The same time with the increase in the value of the leikin it is impossible to contend at one and the same time with the increased difficulties—the increasing production of the Malwa Opium, and a serious diminution of the charges levied by the Chinese Government.

8.—Nor does this heavy and unequal impost free the foreign drug from further taxation, for on its arrival in the interior the consumers have to pay a fresh or local duty, the amount of which is regulated by the requirements of the native population, and the amount of which is to be assessed by the Court of Peking will spend a considerable time at Tientsin, with Li Hung-chang in hopes to strengthen the talk of Triple Alliance, which was arranged in September last between Li, Sir Robert, and Admiral Bromhead.

The young Emperor Kwang Siu is said to be a young man of much prudence, and he will be a good man to rule.

His Excellency Marquis Tseng telegraphed to His Excellencies of the Tsin-pai Yamen, or Office of Foreign Affairs, as to the annexation of Burma by England. His Excellency Yan Ching-ming wired back congratulating Great Britain on the occurrence, for which action Yan Ching-ming has been taken to task very severely.

9.—In order to effect a substantial improvement in the trade, and bring about an important development of the exports of Malwa Opium to China, your memorialists are of opinion that the pass duty should be reduced to 10 per cent.

10.—Your memorialists consider that such a concession on the part of Government is necessary to rescue the trade from its impending death by inaction, and a Government is also largely interested in keeping this trade alive, your memorialists venture to hope that their prayer will be granted.

And your memorialists, as in duty bound,

will ever pray, etc.

BRIGANDAGE IN CHEKIANG.

NINGPO, 26th April.

For a considerable time past certain districts of the Tsin-shou prefecture have been harassed by bands of robbers, who derive their name at times from travelling so unsafe that upon certain roads business has sometimes been seriously interrupted. Last has been the beginning of July a collision took place between a band of robbers and some soldiers at a large village, Bah-shui-yang about fifteen miles to the westward of Tai-chow. In its first encounter the soldiers were repulsed, and a number of their number were the others fled to Tai-chow, where it is reported that a formidable insurrection had broken out. Great alarm prevailed in the city of Tai-chow, the gates were closed every evening before sunset, and a large number of the citizens were told off every night to assist the military in guarding the city walls.

The robbers after the retreat of the soldiers plundered several shops at Bah-shui-yang and then made their way into the district city of Jin-kin, about 30 miles west of Tai-chow, and on their way they broke open a number of granaries and dispersed their contents to the villagers. A large force in the meantime was despatched from Tai-chow and reached the city of Jin-kin. The rumor got abroad in the city that the soldiers were robbers in disguise who had got in and were preparing to plunder the city. Considerable alarm prevailed for a time. The following day a large band of robbers made an attack on the city, which was repelled by the soldiers whose appearance had caused so much alarm to the people on the previous day. On the day following, band of soldiers went out in various directions and succeeded in dispersing, and capturing a few of the robbers. The robbers, however, had to return to have cleared out of that district. It is reported that the authorities had taken shelter in a temple, a little way off, and that the district comparatively quiet. However, other reports say that there was a house of frequent occurrence, most especially in the eastern part of the prefecture between the city of Tai-chow and the sea. About a month ago the authorities received information from a spy who had formerly been a robber chief but had been pardoned and employed as a soldier on condition that he assisted others to justice, that the band had taken shelter in a temple, a little way off, and that the district was comparatively quiet. Captain Bostock, whose services are informed of the Tsin-shou prefecture, had received a report from a former member of his company that a mineralogical and geographical survey of the country, left on 4th March for Sagan, accompanied by Mr. Henry Walker and a Chinese merchant interested in the gold discovery. Mr. Walker proceeded to point out the localities where the gold was found.

ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY, WITH THE PUSTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published by the Daily Press, China, Hongkong.

For the last few months we have service this Work stands unrivaled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for the student, and making him a ready conversant with the language. Both the Court and Private publications in China the accents being carefully marked on the book principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and spaces which hitherto characterized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work following facts are subjoined for consideration:—Chinamen's Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Melbourn's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of $10,000 Chinese characters.

Again, the new words which the Chinese constantly in the hands of Native as well as European and American sinologists, requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other. Dictionary hitherto published.

For practical purposes the arrangement of the words is such that it is easy to find them, and a companion volume, transliterated English to Chinese, will facilitate the use of the dictionary.

In this work, in the Chinese characters, the Chinese characters, and Melbourn's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of $10,000 Chinese characters.
